Vincent Koegler was born April 2nd 1986 in Bregenz, Austria, lived in Zurich since moving here in 2005 for his studies but remains an Austrian citizen.

From ETH Zurich he has acquired a BSc in Electrical Engineering and Information Technology as well as a MSc in Biomedical Engineering. For his Master theses he attended Harvard University as Student Researcher.

Having been passionate about videogame's competitive nature, e-Sports, ever since being a kid, he was not actively involved in the Swiss scene until 2011, which was when he started organizing viewing parties for major international e-Sports Tournaments. From there he climbed the ranks of the Swiss Scene very quickly. He joined the Swiss e-Sports Federation in 2012, became President in 2013 and remained in this position ever since. Having built a great international network as President of the SeSF, he was offered the privilege to become a member of the Board of the International e-Sports Federation in December 2016.